Dear Parents/Carers,

It was lovely to welcome the children back this week after the half-term break. We have had another very busy week. The children have learned lots about the artist Jackson Pollock and the techniques he used to create his artwork They have also learned new skills around colour mixing too.

During Maths this week, the children have been working on comparison and have been looking at amounts and identifying which amounts contain a lot more or a little bit more. This is an activity that you could practise with your child at home.

Next week, the whole school is taking part in a culture week. On Monday, Reception children will be thinking about why they are unique, Tuesday's activities will be around the UK and Europe, Wednesday's activity will be related to Africa and Thursday's learning around Asia. If any parents would like to come into class and talk about their own culture, I would be grateful. Alternatively, if you are unable to come in but could send in some photographs to show any celebrations etc, that would be great.

Thank you for your continued support.
